

PERSIA CHART

Examine the following categories before you begin building your PERSIA Chart. Some things may belong in more than one category. It's okay to list things twice and then decide where you will use the information. Sometimes these connections can provide good transitions from one discussion to the next. Also, try to keep things in some chronological context. Remember, changes in one category can impact other areas as well and changes can occur over time. Be aware of these shifts!

Political

Leadership
Policies
Issues
Parties

Ideology
Conservatism
Liberalism
Laws

Institutions
Elections
Foreign policy
War

Borders
Balance of power

Economic

Work
Money
Industry
Technology
Consumerism

Unions
Strikes
Barter
Commerce
Transportation

Agriculture
Means of exchange
Apprenticeship
Raw materials
Trade

Labor
Advertising
Natural resources
Monopolies
Business practice

Religion

Movements
Leaders

Sects
Ideology

Influence
Church & State

Social

Education
Recreation
Leisure
Ethnic Groups
Relationships
Family Structure
Role of Women

Population shift
Population growth
Birth/Death Rates
Schools
Children
Games
Population growth

Birth/Death rates
Schools
Games
Child rearing
Communication
Class Structure
Organizations

Entertainment
Humanitarianism
Discrimination
Racism

Interaction

Foreign Policy
Trade
Cultural Exchange

Geography
Climate
Natural Resources

Slavery
Social Classes
Native populations

Environmental change

Ideology

Philosophy

Treatises

Letters

Essays

Arts

Literature
Music
Painting

Sculpture
Movements
Reaction

Change
Popular Culture
Fashion

Media
Culture
Cuisine